BURLINGTON, VT. — Months after the Inauguration Day shooting death of Border Patrol Agent David Maland in upper rural Vermont near the Canadian border, Zizian trans death cult member Teresa "Milo" Consuelo Youngblut, 21, of Seattle, has finally been indicted on a murder charge.

Until now, Youngblut had only been charged with using a deadly weapon while assaulting a federal agent.

The new indictment also includes charges of using a deadly weapon to forcibly assault two other federal agents, and using a Glock .40-caliber pistol in a crime of violence.

“As alleged, this defendant shot and killed a United States Border Patrol Agent while he was performing his duties,” said Acting Assistant Attorney General Matthew Galeotti of the DOJ’s Criminal Division.

Youngblut is part of a leftist trans death cult led by a trans person named Jack LaSota, who uses the alias "Ziz." The group is linked to at least eight deaths.

Youngblut is a woman who uses the name "Milo" and does not identify as male or female, according to her social media.

U.S. Attorney General Pam Bondi has authorized prosecutors to pursue the death penalty in this case.

Authorities say Youngblut and Felix “Ophelia” Bauckholt, another cult member, were stopped on Jan. 20 by federal and local officers after drawing attention at a motel for wearing black tactical gear and possessing firearms. Both were armed during the traffic stop. Youngblut is accused of firing the shots that killed Maland. Bauckholt, a German national who identified as a woman, was killed in the crossfire. Youngblut sustained minor injuries and has remained in custody between Vermont and New Hampshire since the shooting.

The Ziz Cult
Authorities are investigating the connection between murders across the country to the "Zizians" — a cult of highly educated trans vegan "rationalists."
Jack "Ziz" LaSota
The transgender leader of the group, who has posted about "transhumanism" and other topics. Some followers say LaSota is dead, but that seems to be a plot to avoid authorities. LaSota also used the name Andrea Phelps.
Amir "Emma" Borhanian
Alexander "Somni" Leatham
Two transgender Zizians who are accused of attacking Curtis Lind in Solano County, Calif., because they were squatting on his property. Lind, who lost an eye in the attack, shot and killed Borhanian, but was going to testify against Leatham and another accused assailant and Ziz follower, Suri Dao.
Michelle Jacqueline Zajko
Authorities say the gun Youngblut used in the Border Patrol attack was bought by Zajko — the trans nonbinary adult child of Rita and Richard Zajko, who were found killed in mysterious and unsolved circumstances in Delaware County, Pa. in early 2023. Zajko, whose blog shows connections to the Ziz cult, is now being sought by authorities.

Felix "Ophelia" Bauckholt
Snyder was engaged to be married to Youngblut. Youngblut and Bauckholt, both transgender, were stopped by Border Patrol agent David Maland on Jan. 20. Youngblut allegedly shot at Maland, who was killed. Bauckholt was killed by return fire. Youngblut was arrested.
Snyder has been arrested for allegedly killing 82-year-old Lind to prevent him from testifying at the trial. Lind was stabbed and had his throat slit Jan. 17 on the street outside his home in Vallejo, Calif.

The shooting sparked a manhunt for federal authorities to track down other members of the cult, who are accused of being linked to multiple other homicides across the U.S.

Youngblut’s husband, Maxiliam Synder, was taken into custody in Vallejo, Calif. in January over the brutal knife murder of a man. In February, LaSota, Michelle Zajko and Daniel Blank were found heavily armed while trespassing in rural western Maryland and are awaiting trial in Allegany County.

Two other Zizian members are scheduled to go on trial later this year in Vallejo on murder and attempted murder charges.
